THE DURL. The mails of this morning bring us no new facts in relation to this unfortunate matter, nor any fresh confirmation of the rumors and reports of yesterday. We are yet in doubt upon when to charge the guilt of the barbarous gonor had been appeared by the first fire. The press appears to be much excited on the subject, and in some quarters manifests a desire to turn Mr. Cilley's death to political account. We noticed in the Age of yesterday a most infamous the Bank party; and an attempt, which would be ludicrous, were it not for its connection, with timely death.

We regret, deeply regret, that the Age has taken this course. We hoped that the political friends and opponents of Mr. Cilley, would have been permitted to join in expressing their admiration for his acknowledged talents, their symthe folly and madness that led to his death. For our own part, in the kind feelings engendered by long sequaintance with Mr. Cilley, single represed upon his memory. The Banks have been, and no doubt will be, deterred from further issues, from the fact that their bills so readily find their way to Boston, where they must be immediately redeemed or be subject to interest for the time they remain unredeemed. I think this difficulty may be very much diminished by a union of feeling and continuation of the contrat, after the spirit of effort. Let every business man take pains to exchange and circulate city bills. If he has occasion to make remittances to Roston, let him either exchange his city money among his neighbors, or call at the Banks and allow them to exchange them for him. We commend them to the care ful consideration of those, if any there be, who, in their support of the doctrines of the present and their corps of assailants and the innumeraadministration are sincere in the belief that they and more than all, by the adoption of the monare engaged in the cause of democracy. We ask not the attention of any who may profess to believe that the Whig party of this day is engaged in the advocacy of the Federal doctrines of a past age. Such men are either deficient in honesty, or wanting in common sense. To them, it would be in vain to appeal.

It has been asserted by the friends of the National Administration, that the whige are the federal party at least that they inherit the federal doctries. This is a favorite notion with all the party organs. The gentleman trom Jefferson (Mr. Huibert) has neverted it boldly on this floor during this debate. He declared with great simplicity, that, we were the lederal party, and that that party had always been in favor of enlarging the power of the executive, and of making a strong and splendid government; and now that we were found bringing forward and advocating a measure on the express ground that it will weaken the executive. The centle-man will not see his own freductionad absurdum." He is right, unquestionably, in his views of the distinctive ductrines of the federal party: and he is right too as to the object of this bill and of the course of the whige on this floor; and he is only wrong, or rather unfortunate, when putting the two together, not to see the absurdity - the direct contradiction of calling the whigs, federalists. Executive power gave birth to the whig party, and they would be false to themselves and false to all their professions, if they did not strive in every way to check its growth, and it possible, reduce it within the limits of salety. The old federal party was founded upon the directly opposite principle the went ness of the executive was their fear and the burden of their complaint, and how to strengthen it, their study. If, therefore the great principle of the two parties is to be the criterion, the whig party is not the federal party-nes the inherity, of the destrings-of-that porty: But sechaps gentler in woold prefer to test the question by men, rather than principles. Mr. Goodenow the report was laid on the table. On motion of Mr. Webster, resolve allowing Penobscot Indians $1000 (for a convention at Old Town, to choose a Governor and Lt. Govpointments into the hands of the President as a erner) yesterday passed to be engrosed, was teconsidered. Mr. Webster moved indefinite postponement. Reason called for.

Mr. Webster said they now have a Governor and Lt. Governor this would be a great and unnecessary expense coming out of the Indian fund -a delegation came on last night who want $1000 or 1500 to buy food. The grant, Mr. W. said, would, do them good but the grant proposed in the resolve would be throwing away ուսութ.

Mr. Hamlin opposed the motion he said be had investigated the subject—the Indians wished to choose rulers for a limited time there were two parties, the young men and the old the old wished to remain as they are the young wished to have a new election of officers to give more rigor and energy to the affairs of the tribe. They wish to have tree schools camblished, and for that purpose to elect officers who will be in favour of free schools.

MR. WEBTER said he had no objection to the tribe choosing their rulers once a hiouth if they chose, but he thought it wrong for 30 or 40 young men to be permitted to have this money for electing a governor. The money belonged to all the members of the tribe in common. The Governor and councel have already appropriated $250 for education among the tribe the pies-ent year. Mr. TEXAET was apposed to the indefinite postponement he said he heard the etatement of th delegation before the Judiciary Committee they say they live in the midst of a Republican Government, and they wish to have their ru-lers elected for life. They wish to have education enconinged to have agriculture established to live on their own fames and cultivate them like civilized men. The forests have, disappeared around them they can no longer live by hunting and we ought to sid them, in cuttroung the arts of civilized life.

Mr. Webster withdrew his motion to postpone, and moved to lay on the table till to-morrow; agreed to.

NEW AND VALUABLE SCHOOL

BOOK!
FILE attention of School Committees, Teachers and Parents is invited to the examination of the "JUVENILE READER," a selection of easy Reading Lessons, by a Teacher, a new edition of which, revised and corrected, we have just published. At is believed that the book is one which has been very much wanted in our common schools, and indeed it was compiled at the request of many of our best Teachers. The compiler is a gentleman of known abrities, and long experience in his profession. The pieces in this book, fre chiefly selected from popular works designed for youth, and it is believed, will have a healthy moral influence in those schools in which it is adopted. The book comes at a very low price and has been adupted in a great many. Schools with decided approbation and having been sterettly ped, is free from the danger of having any alterations made in it, which is the greatest trouble with all school books.

Those connected with schools, ar interested in any manner, are requested to call and examine it. SMITH & FENNO, 17 West Market Square.
